to county records, the education department was in arrears on certain loans made during past administrations. Mrs. McDonald gaid she had spoken with A. C. Mitchell, former clerk, and E. E. Breland, former superintendent of education, who both agreed that they remember the payments being made but that apparently the notes had not been cancelled cad returned to the education

School board attorney Walter James Phillips said today that he, the state auditor and Ladner hed checked the warrants for several years and found that warrants had actually been issued and money repaid leaving the amount due on the loans in question of between $6,000 and $7,000 payment of which is aiready set up in the budget, and not $20,000 previously stated by the

A rigid crackdown on motorists failing to stop for stopped school buses has been ordered by City Commission Council. Mayor John A. Scafide said has been told drivers are failing to obey the law requiring that cars traveling in either direction stop for a loading or unloading school bus. He said traffic approaching from the opposite direction, as well as traffic behind the bus, must stop.

He expressed alarm over the repeated reports of violations received from bus drivers and public and parochial school officials. The mayor said Bay St. Louis police have been ordered to patrol streets used by the school buses and even to trail the buses to watch for violators.

Police report that several violators have been stopped and claimed they did not know that approaching traffic had to stop as well as traffic behind the bus. While police have just warned motorists so far they have been ordered to begin making arrests. Bus drivers have also been instructed to note the license numbers of violators and turn the information over to the police for action.

Mayor Scafide noted state law provides a minimum penalty of $50. He said in order to safeguard the lives of the youngsters enroute to and from school it is important that this law be enforced. He explained that when a school bus stops traffic is to stop, giving pupils a chance to cross the street to or from the bus.

No Party

Much space in the ten-a-week handouts we receive from the state Republican organization has been devoted to the idea that one should vote for the Republican presidential electors on the ground that were Mississippi a two-party state it would receive more consideration tron the Democrats.

At the very best this is a weak and negative proposal, but, except for two facts, it would merit serious consideration. In the first place, why necessarily Republican? Rouldn't the state going Socialist, Populist or Dixiectat have the same result?

In the second place, Republican activity in the South generally and in Mississippi specifically has been almost solely confined to presidential elections and can-Adates. In the whole state how many candidates did the Republican party run last year for county board of supervisors, alderman, state representative or state senator? There must have been some, but we don't know

Although the Republican presidential electors may well carry Hancock County this November, there is in tact no Republican party in Mississippi and the vast majority of votes for these electors will be cast by individuals who voted in last year's DEMOCRATIC primary and will seek to do the same next year.

There's nothing wrong with being a Republican. Probably a majority of our friends will vote for that party's candidates in November, but they should stand up and be counted and not be a Republican every fourth November. Ctherwise there will never be a Republican PARTY in Mississippi.

Not News

Cuban-U. S. Relations Worsen, U. S. Is Accused of Aggression, et. al., so read yesterday's headlines. Ve wonder what's the news value of those stories.

Within a week of Dictator Fidel Castro's accession to power it was obvious that, from our country's standpoint, we had jumped from the frying pan into the fire in not actively opposing the Castro-led rebellion. Repeated verbal blasts by Castro and the Dictator's younger brother, Raoul, aimed as this country, together with confiscation of about one billion dollars of U. S. owned property and open support of Russia and Communist China even made Castro's lengthy and defamatory tirade before the United Nations hardly news.

The only thing of real news value concerning our relations with Cuba would be action by our president that would stop our subsidization of Castro through a sugar subsidy and otherwise. Our gutless action in this diplomatic sphere is of more importance than our attitude toward the much-debated problem of far distant Quemoy.

Couldn't help but notice the high percemage of Hancock Coumy Republican campaign workers who are ineligible to vote in Mississippi though perhaps in Michigan and elsewhere. Is this another "Yankee" invasion?

This editor knows relatively little about professional baseball, and it may be in the best interest of the American League's New York team that Manager Casey Stengel be released. It does seem a little odd that Stengel doesn't "figure in their plans for the future" when he has just piloted them to a league championship and, except for the proverbial, and this time literal, bounce of the ball, might have led the team to a world's cham-

We nevertheless doubt that under the state constitution the courts can étant the injunction unless the Supreme Court of Mississippi desires to emulate that of the United States and stan making las.

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

The Louisians marghes continues to be the fishing hot spot with catches of up to 500 pounds of speckled trout being reported. Campa in other areas report fair fishing and several good strings of reds were garnered in the Heron Bay area.

Rait shrimp are available to early risers but some camps ran our Saturday and Sunday so it is advisable to bring along market bait and lures although a cool spell is needed before artificial minnows will become productive. Cut croakers or other small fish may be used now with some success. Usual method is to scale, clean and tenderioin the fish and cut into strips about a half inch wide and about three or four inches long. Hook twice on one end and fish a few inches off the bottom - a good red fish rig but watch out for gars and sharks.

Here's a Proven Killer

Fresh water fishing is good and the next couple of months is the time to use the old Bay St. Louis trolling rig which is a small spinner followed by a black gnat with a small piece of pork rind, split on the end, attached to the hook and trolled shallow. This is a proven killer up the Jordan or other fresh water areas.

The real estate business has cooled down somewhat as it enters the winter season so realtors and agents take to the rivers and bayous to forget their troubles. Perfect example is A. G. Dantagnan who spent Friday and Saturday in the Louisiana marshes scaling up sunshine, fresh air and speckled trout. Partners were Vic Leaveau of Waveland and Elvon Majore of New Orleans. Carob was 131 super specks and several reds including on $ 19-pounder. When we called Wednesday he was back in the same spot with A. E. Alexander.

Couldn't find Al Kingston either but rumors are that he was oeen headed for the general vicinity of Turkey Bayou.
Only a vacant spot could be seen Wednesday where Mitch and Majorie's boar is usually bept - no use calling them.

Loiacano Scores ID

According to the AP Pearl River is on top of the Mississippi Junior College Conference having walloped Copiah-Lincoln 36-0 Saturday with the help of a Bay St. Louis halfback, and former top St. Stanislaus athlete, J. E. Loiacano, who ran for one of the touchdowns. Sport writers insist on calling him Joe, which, for some reason, irritates dad Joe no end. Big Joe says he wants to be the only Joe in the family.

Joe Tacont caught a sack of mugil cephalus last week and we had a few for Sunday dinner. If the name is confusing it is a fish known for the peculiar structure of the sesophagus and stomech, the former being Band with long threadlike peptiles.

Jack Kramer and Camille Scheefer found another hot spet less week catching two three-pound reds each in hoss than dive minutes but they won't tell where they got them -- Ladner's Fish Market

Oyster are in good condition but shrimping isn't so hot Commissioner Joseph Colson of the Marine Conservation Commission reports. He said that during a commission meeting Monday it was pointed out that shrimping was good in Biloxd but not in the Bay St. Louis area. An inspection of the new oyster reefs will be made Tuesday, he said.

Homecoming

After bettling to a well-deserved tie in the final quarter of their homecoming game with Notre Dame of Biloxi, St. Stanislaus was besten 12-6 when Rebel quarterback Dennis Melpass took the ensuing kickoff and ran 82 yards for the final tally.

Lady luck refused to favor the Rocks but they also fluffed several scoring opportunities missing what appeared to be surething pesses. Malpass accounted for both Rebel tallies, returning Louis Jacobi's punt in the opening minutes of play 68 yards. Stanislaus took the opening kickoff and after picking up one first down Jacobi booted the fatal punt.

The score remained 6=0 until the final quarter when fullback Melvin (Boody) Wilson blasted through left tackle from the one. Neither team was able to add an extra point.

Both teams threatened in the second quarter but neither could reach the golden end zone, St. Stanizlaus marched to the Rebels' 25-yard line but gave up the ball on downs and Notre Dame forced their way back with a 66-yard drive that ended on the Rocks' seven at halftime, The Rocks started moving
